EVERY MEMBER OF ROTARY CLUB TO ATTEND MEET

Glendale to Make 100 Per Cent Showing at Convention Next Week

By GIL A. COWAN
Headquarters will be established in Los Angeles, probably in the Philharmonic auditorium building, by the Glendale Rotary club next week for the international convention of Rotary clubs, the Rev. E. E. Ford being assigned to this duty at the regular weekly luncheon of the local Rotarians here yesterday.

V. M. Hollister gave the final instructions of the "On to Los Angeles committee" and Secretary J.
Herbert Smith announced that he had registered the club 100 per cent. President Roy L. Kent believes that Glendale's twenty-nine members will make quite a showing among the younger clubs of the twenty-third district.

The thousands of delegates are expected to begin arriving in large numbers the latter part of this week and on Monday afternoon Glendale motorists will bring as many as possible out from Los Angeles here to see "the fastest growing city in America."

Lunch in Los Angeles
All members are expected to attend the opening session of the convention Tuesday morning and the luncheon committee will make arrangements to hold the weekly meeting in some Los Angeles restaurant where visiting Rotarians may attend.

Committees for the year have been named and strengthened by seven new members, elected yesterday. Glendale Rotary club bids fair to make its mark as soon as the convention excitement has passed, it is stated by Secretary
J. Herbert Smith.

Windshield emblems, window signs, banners, hatbands, arm bands and Chamber of Commerce literature will let the visitors know that Glendale is on the map next week. It was revealed. In other columns will be found more about the details and the Rotarians will be kept informed through the papers as to activities.

High School Seniors Enjoy Picnic Outing

Seniors came to Glendale Union high school this morning with pleasant memories of their picnic yesterday afternoon at Brookside Park, Pasadena, at which one of the features was ice cream—and more of it.

South Pasadena teachers were having a picnic alongside and George Bush, superintendent of schools in South Pasadena, got in the high school ice cream line by mistake—that is, he said it was a mistake. He complimented Miss Florence Knight and Normal C. Hayhurst, class teachers, on the intelligent demonstration of the seniors and said that it was mighty hard to tell them from teachers.

Mr. Hayhurst said that he would have gotten some of the teachers' ice cream if he could have gotten away with it.

The first part of the afternoon was spent by the seniors in the Brookside plunge. A baseball game between the boys and the girls followed. Despite the fact that the boys played with their left hands, the score was tied.
Another five inning game was played between teams captained by Wolfred Cline and Dale Wood.
About seventy-five or eighty seniors left Glendale for the picnic at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.
Private automobiles were used,
and a truck. They returned about 8 o'clock last night.

EN ROUTE TO MISSOURI

Miss Maud Garbee, her sister,
Miss Emma Garbee and Miss Jennie Bryant, who have been connected with the nursing staff of the Glendale Research Hospital for the past year, departed last night for their home in Springfield, Mo. They were honored by a number of farewell parties.

tion of the Tuesday Afternoon dinner tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. War-with Mrs. C. W. Houston, vice regent, in charge in the absence of the regent, who has been quite seriously ill at her home for several months.

Mrs. Gertrude Pollansbee was toastmistress, each of the members responding with an anecdote or historical event in connection with the revolution. Mrs. Pollansbee also gave an excellent talk of greeting for Mrs. Braly.

Mrs. John Hyde Braly succeeds herself as regent and the other

During the past year the Gen-mile of pennies for a maternity cottage in Los Angeles, and at yesterday's meeting it was decided to continue that fund and raise it to $1,000. This will leave $160 to be raised. This fund will be known as the General Richard Gridley Chapter endowment fund.

The meeting then adjourned to meet the first Thursday in October, when it is anticipated that Mrs. Braly will be present and have charge of the regular session.

San Pedro League Give Comedy Sketch

from San Pedro by Rev. Thomas Greece, who introduced the players.

FORM ART COLONY IN SPANISH HOME AT LA RAMADA

Sculptors' Guild Members
Establish Studios Upon Beautiful Grounds

By ORVILLE BOYLEN
"Beneath the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stands,
The smith, a mighty man is he,
With strong and sinewy hands..."

Anyone entertaining the idea that artists in general are a class of idlers, should visit the art colony which has lately been established at La Ramada in North Glendale and be relieved of the delusion.

La Ramada, the old homestead of Don Jose Maria Verdugo, has lately been converted into an art colony by leading members of the Sculptors' Guild of Southern California, who have taken up their abode there. The old adobe mansion, set in its surrounding of beautiful grounds, has served many purposes since its occupation by the old Don and his heirs.
Of late it has gone unattended until these artists saw in it an ideal location for an art colony.
They promptly set about obtaining a lease of the property from its present owners, the Misses Ida, Jeanette and Myrtle Baldwin, who, realizing the value of a cultural center, not only to Glendale, but to Southern California, have given over this beautiful place to the uses of highly idealistic artists.

Members of Colony
The group of artists residing at the colony now comprise: Harold C. Schwartz, leading California sculptor and secretary of the Sculptors' Guild of Southern California; Elizabeth Bingham Schwartz, one of the most authoritative of modern art critics; Frank Wamsley, prominent sculptor; Wallace Kenney, horticulturist; and John C. Cook. Carlo Romonelli, a sculptor whose work attracted wide attention, both at the recent exhibition here and at Exposition Park, also has studios there and is working nearly every day.

With rake and spade and scythe and paint brush, the artists have done wonders in converting the place into a thing of beauty—an ideal spot for the work they are doing. They are not the lounge liards, Greenwich Village type of artists, but real hard-working, earnest toilers, with big ideas.

Welcome to Visitors
Anyone who is truly interested in art and beautiful things will find it well worth their while to visit these artists in their new and beautiful place, and will be accorded a warm welcome by the artists.

"We are always glad to welcome anyone who wishes to come and who is really interested in the work," says Mr. Schwartz, who adds that they are willing to make statues, fountain pieces, bird baths or portraits, for anyone desiring them for the beautification of their homes.

Mrs. W. Hamilton's Home Meeting Place

An all-day meeting of the members of Chapter C. J. P. E. O., was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Hamilton, 237 West
Garfield avenue. The members all brought well filled baskets and at noon, following a business session in the morning, a picnic luncheon was served and a social time enjoyed. In the afternoon Mrs. Gladys Porter read a carefully prepared paper on "Birds and Flowers in California." The remainder of the day was spent in needlework for the needy.

Guests present included Mrs.
Ollie P. Cramer of Los Angeles, state vice president of P. E. O.; Mrs. Edith Smith, Mrs. Fannie Beach and Mrs. Mildred Kimball of Chapter A. I. Glendale, and Mrs. Helen Smith and Mrs. Amanda Ostergard of Chapter U of Burbank.

Officers Installed For Colorado P.-T. A.

At the meeting of the Colorado Street Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon the officers for the ensuing year were installed. Miss Ida Waite installed the president, Mrs. E. S. McKee, who, in turn, installed the other officers: Mrs. Maurice Burke, vice-president; Mrs. Bine Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. P.
Brant, treasurer, and Mrs. L. F.
Lewis, historian. The children of the third grade gave a short program of recitations and song.

Local Postoffice Makes New Record

A new record was hung up by the Glendale postoffice yesterday afternoon when 117 sacks of outgoing mail were dispatched over the Pacific Electric and Southern Pacific railways.

Business has increased to such an extent that only the move into new quarters will forestall congestion in the cramped quarters in which the mail clerks are now working.

FRANK C. WELLER BACKED STRONG FOR ASSEMBLY

Glendale Man Has Host of Friends in District Who Support Candidacy

Being born lucky and being born in Iowa mean one and the same thing for a political candidate in southern California.

Attorney Frank C. Weller, who is seeking the Republican nomination in the August primary, for assemblyman from the Sixth-first district, was reared on a farm in Henry county, Iowa, near Burlington.

After living in southern California for the last twelve years and graduating from the college of law, University of Southern California, he is now capable of filling the position of assistant attorney for the Los Angeles Wholesalers Board of Trade.

In his marriage to Miss Dorothy Lee about three years ago, Glendale gained a citizen who had served in the World War as a Lieutenant. They reside at 310
East Wilson avenue and have established themselves in a large circle of friends.

Member of Legion
Attorney Weller is identified with the local American Legion as chairman of its entertainment committee and he is a member of the Elks, Knights of Pythias, Young Men's Republican league and Los Angeles Bar association.
Both he and his wife are affiliated with the First Methodist church of Glendale.

With his residence in the heart of the district, Attorney Weller is highly qualified in his candidacy as his profession brings him in close contact with the commercial life of this section. He also has a wide acquaintance throughout the district which includes Glendale, Eagle Rock, Highland Park, Burbank, San Fernando, Van Nuys, Lankershim and the San Fernando and Antelope valleys.

However, Glendale is the controlling community insofar as votes are concerned and it is most likely that a successor for John Robert White, Jr., he named by the local voters. In passing his petitions for nomination, Attorney Weller found the Republican leaders of the district his most staunch supporters, although the list includes members of practically every party and creed.

I am entering the race independent of any particular inter-

MOTHER AND CHILD DIE

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—Mother love lost in a race of desperation with a speeding express train when Mrs. Bessie Adams, 26, dashed into the train's path in a vain effort to snatch her 18-month-old son, Elmer, from the tracks. Both mother and child were killed. The Adams home is located only 190 feet from the Frisco tracks at Tyson, in the suburbs. The father, Willard Adams, is a section foreman employed by the railroad.

Resorts In Florence and Rome Again Mecca for Many Sightseers

By CLARA WOLD

For International News Service. ROME — For the first time since the beginning of the great war Italy has recovered her tourist trade. Already her hotels are filled from one end of Italy to the other. In Rome, where English and Americans always come on sight-seeing tours, it is almost impossible to get a room. In Florence, where Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles spent a part of their honeymoon, it is almost impossible to find rooms, and even Venice has an extraordinary number of tourists.

"Italy is recovering," say the Italians. Out of the recent turmoil created by the failure of the Banco Italiano di Sconto—one of the four largest banks of Italy—has come a loud cry of "Back to Normalcy and Reconstruction."

"Especially from the peasants, many of whom were depositors in the bank, come complaints against the past programs and demands for a new one. Apparently the most rapid way Italy sees of returning to normalcy is to make up the difference in exchange between the lire and English pounds or American dollars by doubling her hotel rates and her prices on every article a tourist from the middle west of America could think of wanting.

Hotels Increase Rates

A year ago Americans complained bitterly against this kind of welcome from Italy, but this spring Americans, like all other tourists, are delighted if they can find a hotel that will take them at any price. Second class hotels raised their rates 35 lire for room and board to 50, and when they were filled the third-class hotels did the same.

In a very dirty little pensione I was told that the rate was now 50 lire instead of 25 as it was a month ago, and if I didn't like the dirt I could go somewhere else, because there are plenty of other English who don't mind paying 50 lire for dirt and all, and that they would go out for their meals besides, rather than eat the food the hotel served at that price. I explained in my best Italian that I was an American and not English and that the hotel manager was a profiteer. Whereupon he burst forth indignantly against any American who objects to paying out any sum of money.

That was only the beginning of my conversations with Italians about exchange. As a matter of fact every Italian is sure that Americans are burning with wealth, but after all there is a friendly tone in all their remarks about Americans.

Italians admire America and the Americans; they wish they could be as clever; they are proud of their own great industrial city of Milan because they imagine it is "just like America," and certainly by its streets of concrete apartment houses and factories seem very like new Brooklyn, N. Y.

It is when Italians talk about the difference between French, French and Italian francs or lire that they become bitter. One franc will buy almost two lire. France returned to white bread while Italy was still eating dark bread. France had milk and butter while Italy was still hungry. "That," says the Italian laborer or the Italian business man, "is

Glendale Girl Makes Fine Showing In Shakespearian Contest Recently

Doris Packer, who is a member of the senior class at the Glendale Union high school, won fourth place in the Shakespearian contest recently held at Berkeley, with high schools all over the state competing. This is quite a distinction and honor not only to Miss Packer, but to Glendale Union high school and Miss Mota Gardiner, the dramatic coach. Schools of the north and south were represented by forty-six girls and thirty-five boys. Each representative gave a Shakespearian selection and the judges chose seven from the boys' group and seven from the girls' group for the final tryouts.

Out of the forty-six girls who gave selections, Miss Packer was one of the seven chosen for the final tryouts. Her selection was beautiful and her manner of speaking charming. The final tryouts were held in the enormous Greek theatre at Berkeley.

The results of the girls' contest was as follows: First, San Francisco high; Second, Hollywood high; Third, Berkeley high; fourth, receiving honorable mention, Glendale.

Lester Marston to Keep Ball Fans Wet

"Demon Thirst" no longer will annoy fans at the baseball games on the side lines of the Park avenue ball diamond. Lester Marston of 113 North Brand boulevard, who has obtained the concession for the sale of soft drinks there, this morning placed an order with H. A. Schaeffer, local salesman for the S. W. Brown company of 465 West Los Feliz Road, for half a car load of the Green Hill beverage.

The order was divided between "Green Hill Root Beer," "Green Hill Ginger Ale," "Green Hill Log Cabin Berry Juice" and "Lime Buck."

The bottled goods will be delivered as soon as a pavilion has been built for them.

And usually he adds, "We should never have gone in," which after all is what most of Italy honestly thought before she went into the war. They are anti-German even now, as a result of the war, but Italian commerce understands only too well that her large commercial interests used to be to be both German and Italian labor has not forgotten that Italy used to send her excess population out of the country—nearly 1,000,000 emigrants a year, many of them to Germany.

Blame Misfortunes on War

Whatever misfortunes come to Italy you may be sure the people will say, "That is what we got from the war." A year ago Fascists were saying, "The socialists are running the country. That is what we got out of the war." Employers added, "Look at the wages. That is what we got out of the war." Socialists blame the war for Communists; Communists blame the war for the Right Socialists, and the Popolare or Clerical Party blames the war most particularly for Giolitti and for the power of Fascists.

And everyone blames the war for the exchange. "See what Italy has suffered," they say. "We alone of all the allies have got nothing for our suffering but hunger and political intrigue."

Is it possible that she whose name is engraved in the list of graduates is the same baby girl that cooed a welcome when Daddy came home, only yesterday, it seems? For the years pass quickly and our children are children only a day. One of the sweetest memories of boy or girlhood is the thoughtfulness paid them by others on occasions when they are honored. On graduation—epochal day in the young life—no wish should go unanswered.

SUNSHINE YOUTHS SHOW CLASS IN ANNUAL MEET

Take Seven Firsts, Get Two Seconds, One Third, Two Fourths, One Fifth

By HOWARD M'GILLIS
Sporting Editor The Evening News
Southern California's unbeatable climate for conditioning athletes was again demonstrated last week at the annual national high school track and field meet which was held at Chicago. Although a Southland squad failed to take first place, enough points were made in the various events to put them far ahead of any other group of schools to enter the affair, which was the highest and most successful in the history of national prep athletics.

In pursuing the results of the meet it is seen that the "Sunshine" stars captured seven firsts, two seconds, one third, two fourths and one fifth.

The first place winners were led by Bud Houser of Oxnard, who beat out the entire field in both the 440-yard dash and the 100-yard dash. The other first place men were followed closely by Shaw, Monrovia's colored flash who took first in the 440-yard run and tied for leading honors in the high jump. The other first place men of southern California were Kerr and Bickmore, of Huntington Beach, and Smith of San Fernando. Their victories were accomplished in the half mile, the pole vault and the 220-yard dash, respectively.

Bud Houser Stars

Smith of San Fernando and Nash of Huntington Beach are the pair who captured the second place events, the former in the 100-yard dash and the latter in the 440-yard dash. Bud Houser, who was easily the outstanding star of the meet, was the winner of the sole third place, it being the hammer throw.

Nichols of Huntington Beach finished fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles event, while Nash of the same team took fourth in the running broad jump. Houser was the only southern Californian to take a fifth place, it being in the javelin throw.

Sale of Willie Kamm

With the announcement that Willie Kamm, star third sacker of the San Francisco team of the Pacific coast league, has been sold to the Chicago White Sox for cash and players aggregating the stupendous amount of $125,000, more evidence is shown why the far western minor leaguers are strong in their disfavor for the restoration of the draft rule. Had this seemingly unfair bit of baseball legislation been in vogue in William J. McCarthy's circuit last fall, this selfsame Kamm would have been gobbled up by some ambitious major league club for the $7500 draft price and the Seal management would have been out just $117,500.

Although the Bay City entry has not been a pennant winner within the past few seasons, still the interests of Strub Putnam, etc., are easily the class of the league when it comes to bringing in the well known shekels.

And $200,000 is quite a sum to lay down as the value of two minor league youngsters, and that is the amount that the Seals are realizing from the sale of Jimmy O'Connell and Willie Kamm. The sale of the former, which was announced last summer, was a record minor league deal, John McGraw agreeing to pay $75,000 for the lanky center fielder for 1923 delivery.

Decision Is Severe

Judge K. M. Landis' recent decision regarding the directors and manager of the Portland club is without a doubt the most drastic punishment yet meted out in baseball circles, but if William H. Klepper, James R. Brewster and William (Kopeck) Kenworthy are guilty of the accusations which have been made against them it may readily be decided that the baseball ruler cannot be too severe with them to uphold the honest principles upon which the national pastime was founded.

Should his sentences be carried out, and there is no reason to believe that they will not be, it's a ten to one shot that club owners and directors in the future will think a long time before attempting to induce players of another team to hold out until a transfer is obtained.

Tagging All Bases

The eminent high hurdler, George Herman Ruth, leaned against one of Rip Collins' fast ones in the seventh for a triple, scoring the tying and winning runs against the Red Sox. Therefore, the wild and untamed razzberry was conspicuous by its absence. Score, 5 to 4.

A homer into the right field stands by Jacques Fourrier gave the Cardinals a 3 to 2 victory over the Pirates, the Cards gaining in the chase for second place.

Nary a run in seventeen runs is the record of the Giants after being shut out yesterday by Fillington. The Braves scored both runs in the fifth when Douglas was found for a double by Boeckel and a single by Fillington.

The Reds took a running jump at the delivery of Alexander and rushed the big fellow to the wall in two and two-third innings, the Cubs losing, 6 to 1. Wingo furnished the feature with a homer over the wall in right.

Princeton university is erecting a handsome memorial to Hobart Baker, her great all around athlete who was killed just after the war when his plane crashed to the earth. The memorial takes the form of a great skating rink, a tribute to Baker's prowess at ice hockey, his favorite game and one in which he had no equal in the amateur ranks. Baker also was wonderful at football.

League Will Stand By Landis' Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—Baseball leaders could not confirm a report current here today that in the event W. R. Klepper and James Brewster of the Portland club carry their fight against the decision of Judge Landis barring them from baseball for a long period, to the courts, the franchise and players of the club will be awarded to the league and the team temporarily transferred here giving San Francisco continuous baseball.

It was considered unlikely, however, in baseball circles as a reorganization of the Portland club with elimination of Klepper and Brewster was believed the probable outcome of the meeting of Pacific coast league directors here today.

Klepper and Brewster are expected to present their side of the case, but it was said today the league would stand by the Landis ruling.

College Athlete Is Making Great Record

Glenn Hartranft of Stanford University is startling the entire west with his remarkable athletic records. In a field meet between University of Southern California and Stanford he gained a total of 16 points. Hartranft is the only man in the past ten years to put the shot more than 49 ft. 6 inches.

His time Saturday was 10 1-5 seconds. His mark in the shotput in the California meet was given as 45 feet, 7 inches, which should be sufficient to place in any intercollegiate meet in the country. He has hurled it 49 feet 6 inches. The discus throw was won at a distance of 136 feet.

City of Mexico has two baseball leagues and ten first class diamonds. His phenomenal showing made against the California Bears at Berkeley was easily the feature of the afternoon's affair. Had it not been for Hartranft's superhuman efforts on that occasion the Cardinal entry would have been badly beaten by their closest rivals—the Bruins. By taking first place in the 100-yard dash, the shotput and the discus throw he enabled his team to hold the powerful Berkeley aggregation to a 65 1/2 tie score.

Being six feet tall and weighing in the neighborhood of 190 pounds Hartranft is probably the fastest "big man" that ever donned running spikes. Traversing the century dash ahead of a field consisting of some of the best sprinters of the west is no easy task while the feat of carrying almost 200 pounds avoirdupois along with you is almost unbelievable.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Unquestionably one of the greatest series of outdoor swimming championships anywhere on the Pacific Coast has just been brought to light by the program announced by Coronado Tent City, Calif. With one of the best outdoor swimming courses anywhere in the country, Coronado Tent City on Glorietta Bay, just opposite San Diego, is no new hand in putting on swimming championships.

For years the picked swimmers of the country have at one time or another competed at Coronado Tent City and the present series of championship events announced by Manager Swanson for the summer is on a par with other great national programs held in the border town.

The "piece de resistance" is the National A. A. U. one-mile open water title to be held July 4th as the headliner of a complete day's swimming program in which the championships of Southern California will also be decided. It was on July 4th, 1917, that Coronado Tent City sponsored the one-mile national title race. It was also on that day that the Pacific Coast championships were held and Norman Ross, then a member of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, entered in and won seven of the coast titles and also won the national mile event in 24 minutes, 10 seconds, an American outdoor record for the mile, and this mark still stands today, thanks to the speed of Ross and the phenomenal speed of the water in Glorietta Bay and unexcelled conditions existing on that stretch of water in which the championships are held. Ross not only set a new mile record that day, but in that one mile race he broke every American, and some of them world's record for the intervening distances from 440 yards upwards and most of these records are still standing today.

There will be no Norman Ross competing on July 4th but if arrangements can be made Johnny Weissmuller, now in Honolulu and the reigning swimmer of the day, may swim in the national mile. If he does it is possible that Coronado may again find itself on the world map of swimming records with Johnny smashing the marks that Ross made five years ago.

The season proper opens at Coronado May 30th with a high school series of championships. It is first time in history of scholastic athletics that the San Diego schools have participated in such a meet. This is unusual as the facilities enjoyed are better than many schools which are famous as swimming centers.

On June 18th the 220-yard Southern California championship will be swum over the Coronado Tent City course, this event being under the auspices of the San Diego rowing club. July 4th, as stated, will find the national mile as the big event and several Southern California titles will be decided, including the 440 yards.

There is a possibility that the Pacific Coast annual outdoor swimming titles will be held at Coronado but no definite date has been set so far.

THE WORLD OVER

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Every once in a while a passing flurry of consideration is given by Pacific Coast golfers to the possibility of devising ways and means of bringing annually the best of the professional players to the Pacific seaboard. Talk along these lines again has been revived, judging from past experience nothing is going to come of it unless some one takes it on himself to grab the bull by the horns. What is everybody's business is nobody's business is an axiom that fits this case.

Undoubtedly, the boxing tournament to be held at the Oakland Civic auditorium on June 7 and 8 will be the classiest amateur affair that ever has been held on the Pacific coast. Five of the national champions are coming out from the east, according to a dispatch just received from Frederick Rubien, secretary of the Amateur Athletic union, and two runners up in the recent Boston championships. One of the latter is Gordon Muncie of the New York Athletics who again will have the opportunity of facing John Williams of the Olympic club who took the national heavyweight title by a decision over him. It was a close battle and Muncie thinks he can reverse the decision when they hook up again.

Packey McFarland Found Not Guilty

CHICAGO, June 1.—Packey McFarland, former lightweight pugilist, was acquitted and his brother, Thomas McFarland, was sentenced to six months in jail for contempt. The decision was rendered by Judge George T. Page, in connection with a brewery injunction case.

Judge Page recently closed by an injunction the R. Porter Products company, which operates a brewery in Joliet. Evidence showed that a truckload of beer was moved in defiance of the court's order. Questioning brought out the fact that Thomas McFarland was president of the products company. The judge also fined the corporation $1000.

The Sport Crucible

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, June 2.—Two of our hermetically sealed champions are to emerge from the cocoon in a very short time, one to defend his title against a good second fater, the other to engage in a no-decision bout with the only man who figures to give him a real battle.

The Benny Leonard-Lew Tendler lightweight extravaganza is on for July 20 at Jersey City, according to semi-official advices. They have not signed for the bout yet, but they have agreed to the terms as laid down by eminent Mr. Rickard and the signing of articles is only a formality.

Next we have Johnny Kilbane, agreeing to defend his featherweight title against Charlie Beecher some time, some place. Details of this bout are somewhat vague, but on the assurance of Phil Bernstein, manager of Beecher, the champion has definitely accepted the match.

It is pleasing to note that Kilbane is disposed to come up out of the camphor. In taking on the bout he meets a tough, rugged citizen, who would have been easy for the Kilbane offer four or five years ago. As it is, something is always likely to happen to a middle aged gentleman with a title to defend. The Leonard-Tendler match is contingent upon the serenity of intervening events. Tendler, for instance, must not permit himself to be manhandled by Bobby Barrett in Philadelphia on Friday. That would spill the frijoles all over the premises.

Likewise, Leonard is in for a right busy month and a half, although he has nothing to fear from Jack Britton and Rocky Kansas. He takes on the infirm Britton June 23 in a Jersey City sinecure and Kansas in a championship bout in Michigan City, Ind., July 4. The Rocky one was just made for Leonard's style of fighting.

Athletics Regular Ball Club? Ah, Yes!

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Editor
NEW YORK, June 2.—Although skeptics abound in plentiful manner, the Philadelphia Athletics can take consolation from the fact that they have "sold" themselves to one man whose opinions are worth slightly more than a dime a dozen. He is Colonel T. L. Huston, vice-president of the New York Yankees, who will tell any buttonhole marker in the audience that the Athletics are a ball club.

"It looks to me as though Connie has what he has been shooting for these last seven years," the colonel declared today. "I will admit that I thought the Athletics were just flashing when they started to win games with some regularity in the early part of the season. But I had to revise my estimate. The Athletics of 1922 have proved themselves a real ball club."

Just what has worked this transformation in a team that has been a hopeless tail-ender for seven seasons? The writer has his own opinion on the subject, but was anxious to get the colonel's viewpoint.

"Bing" Miller.
"We thought he had made a bad deal when he gave up Dugan for Miller and Acosta, but what player could he get more valuable than a man who not only bolstered a rather weak outfield defense but who hit .400 in the first six weeks of the season and whose home runs to date total twelve? I regard Miller as the main answer to the present position of the Athletics."

Jack Kearns Says Two Bouts scheduled

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Jack Kearns, manager of heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey, has arrived from New York to take over the training reins of the big fellow. Dempsey, however, did not arrive, the arrival of Kearns but has already started training in the form of road-work and gym workouts.

That the match with Carpenter scheduled to be held within a year's time and the Brennan match at Michigan City, next September, are the only bouts at all definite on the Dempsey schedule, was the statement made by his manager.

Dempsey also has an uncompleted vaudeville tour ahead of him which will kill seven weeks' time.

Teddy Hays, the champion's trainer, reported to Kearns today and future work for Dempsey was gone over in detail. Meanwhile Dempsey was busy moving to the beach where he has leased a house.

DRAMATIC SKETCH FEATURED TODAY AT T. D. & L.

'The Price of a Kiss' Will Be Offered; Unusual Plot,
Cast of Eight

Rex Taylor and Mel Brown, who already have two dramatic sketch productions now going over the Orpheum and Keith circuits, have prepared their third vehicle, "The Price of a Kiss," and through Ralph Allan will present it as the featured attraction at the T. D. & L. theatre today and tomorrow.

This is one of the most unusual plots ever seen on a vaudeville stage and with its cast of eight well-known movie and legitimate stage players offers a treat to Glendaleans. It will prove an interesting surprise to the theatre-goers as it is far above the usual type of vaudeville seen in Glendale.

"Don't Neglect Your Wife" "The Price of a Kiss" will be shown twice each night in addition to the Gertrude Atherton photodrama, "Don't Neglect Your Wife," one of the most unusual motion picture sets ever constructed will be seen. In this, which was made at the Goldwyn studios, an old section of New York, the "Five Points," that was formerly the hang-out of thieves and other underworld characters, has been reconstructed in every detail.

It is to this vicious section of the city that a capable San Francisco newspaper editor comes when his love for a married woman drives him to seek oblivion and to avoid the companionship of his friends. Finding it impossible to live with her husband, she is divorced; and through her willingness to share his fate, succeeds in bringing the editor back to the world.

This Minorca Hen Regular Family Pet

The family pet at the home of Mrs. V. F. Cook, in East Orange Grove avenue, is a black Minorca hen, about a year old, who is a prolific layer, but who requires the attention of a babe in arms when it comes to being put to bed and taken from its roost in the early hours of the morning.

Each evening, as sure as the sun sets, Mrs. Cook performs with regularity the task of putting the hen on her roost in a nearby apricot tree. Then, at this season of the year, at about 4:30 a. m. Mrs. Hen lets out a squawk and a cry that awakens her mistress (and Mrs. Cook goes to the ground, when she saunters around, singing a song of contentment. Later, Mrs. Hen deposits her egg and goes about her business, untended, but far from lonesome.

R. C. Jewell Building Two Duplex Houses

R. C. Jewell of 1319 East Harvard street recently let to W. G. Boyd the contract for two duplex houses to be built on the lot adjoining his present home.

Each apartment will have three rooms, also breakfast nook, large closet, bath and screen porch. These houses will face his residence with a walk connecting the porches to the street in front and a drive in the rear of the garages. Surrounded, as they are, by the beautiful trees and with the extreme depth of the lot it makes a fine location for houses of this kind, it is declared.

Mr. Jewell and his family came to Glendale from Howell, Mich., about two years ago and they have been great boosters for Glendale ever since. They are only one block from the new high school site and they think the prospects look bright for East Harvard street.

SHIPPING BOARD'S ABOLISHMENT IS THREATENED

Organization Is No Use If Merchant Marine Bill
Rejected, Is Claim

By WEBSTER K. NOLAN
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Abolition of the United States shipping board in the event congress fails to pass the ship subsidy bill is contemplated by President Harding, it was learned authoritatively.

An administration spokesman belonging to the president's "inner circle" is authority for the statement that President Harding "fails to see what use the shipping board could serve if the bill providing for a merchant marine is rejected by congress." The president is impressed with the present conditions obtaining in the shipping board with its hundreds of idle ships lying at anchor for want of operators.

President Harding does not contemplate another message to congress on the proposed Harding-Lasker merchant marine plan, but will continue to hold daily conferences with administration leaders in congress and with officials of the shipping board. Chief among those who counsel daily with the president are House Floor Leader Mondell, Republican of Wyoming; Senators Willis of Ohio; Lenroot of Wisconsin and McNary of Oregon, all Republicans, as well as A. D. Lasker, chairman of the United States shipping board.

Unfavorable sentiment on the ship subsidy bill has cropped up in the house, Floor Leader Mondell said today. He felt sure, however, there were enough votes to pass the bill.

High School Hears About Senior Play

The senior play, which will be given next Thursday and Friday nights, was boosted Thursday by two special assemblies at Glendale Union High school.

"Clarence," by Booth Tarkington, is the name of the play to be presented and Miss Mona L. Gardner, director of dramatics, is certain that the players will give a good account of themselves.

Members of the cast were introduced to the audience yesterday. Those who will take part in it are George Jordan, Don Carpenter, Dale Wood, Paul Hutchinson, Miss Genevieve Mulligan, Miss Virginia Huntley, Miss Louise Hollenback, Miss Eleanor Sawyer and Miss Mildred Stanford.

LONDON—London within fifty hours of India will be a reality if a proposed new venture, to be called the "Aerial Orient Express" is brought into being.

The "Express," ascending from London and traveling, by stages, at 100 miles an hour to the eastern boundary of Europe, will follow a route via Paris, Strasbourg, Prague, Vienna and Bucharest to Constantinople, which will be the jumping-off point for a direct flight to India.

Intending travelers will be charged nine cents a mile, and the journey by airplane will quicken the journey by two days ten hours to Constantinople and by more than fifteen days to India.

Modern Boys Shown In 'The Love Charm'

"On with the dance," seems to be the motto of the younger generation today. New capers in the terpsichorean art are matters of everyday report, and a girl would rather be shown new steps than given a box of candy—because very likely she's trying to get thin, anyway!

A bunch of very modern boys and girls at their favorite diversion are shown in "The Love Charm," the Reart picture of which Wanda Hawley is the star and which will play today at the Glendale theatre.

It's a slow "toddler" who can't pick up a new shiver or two from seeing this picture. Director Jeffrey caught the very spirit of the party, which is supposed to be a group of young folks enjoying themselves to the limit, and invited to their best "hoofing" by the presence of a new girl, who shakes a naughty, spindly herself.

"Little Miss Mischief," with Baby Peggy, the Pathe Review and Fox News complete the bill.

Drug Store to Open In Rommel Building

Ney Van Alstine, formerly of Seattle, Wash., and for many years proprietor of a drug store in Yerington, Nev., has leased the corner storeroom in the new Rommel building at Doran street and Brand boulevard, where he will open a drug store in that location.

Fixtures have been ordered and Mr. Van Alstine expects to be ready for business about July 1. Since selling his business in the Nevada city he has scoured Southern California in search of a location with the result that he has selected Glendale as offering the greatest possibilities for the future from a business standpoint.

Being quite a family man, Mr. Van Alstine was impressed by this city as a "home" community. That was another deciding factor in bringing him here.

Discord In Republican Ranks In State Of Illinois May Help Democrats to Win

By WILLIAM F. SULLIVAN
For International News Service.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Hanging by a mere thread, the bond which ties Republicanism in the State of Illinois will receive its real test in the election next November.

Beneath the surface of an apparently united party lie the smouldering coals of discord ready to be poked into a flame which might blaze again with the fury that marked the primary election just held in this state.

The breach which has untied the knot of unity in the ranks of Illinois Republicans dates back to the period shortly before the election which placed Governor Len Small at the helm of the G. O. P. ranks in this state.

It started when Mayor William Hale Thompson, of Chicago, with his delegates at the Republican National convention bolted the Chicago meeting and swung away from Frank O. Lowden, who was in the nomination circle for President.

Since then the party has been skating on thin ice which has been marked by several breaks. After the election Governor Small and his administration went through a stormy session of the Legislature marked by charges from his Republican opponents and Democrats that the administration was attempting to force through its legislative programme by exchange of patronage.

In the closing days of the Legislature several of the Governor's legislative measures were sent to defeat. The Governor then cut off numerous appropriations made to departmental chiefs, including the $700,000 appropriation to Attorney-General Brundage to be used in the enforcement of the State Prohibition act.

Then came the retaliatory steps of the Governor's Republican enemies. Attorney-General Brundage started a Grand Jury investigation, including the one on which the Governor now is being tried at Waukegan for alleged conspiracy to defraud the state of several hundred thousand dollars in interest money.

During the stormy campaigns which marked the recent primary the two Republican factions fought desperately for the nominations of their candidates to the Legislature. The opposing faction to the Governor was out in the open with threats of seeking his impeachment and they were striving for the necessary votes in the State Senate.

Both sides claim victory in the primary. The question now arises as to whether the losing factions in the respective districts will align themselves with the party nominee or throw their strength behind the Democratic candidate.

At the state convention held here in April the work of the state administration was endorsed, but without specific mention of any official. Plans for the convention meeting and its organization were thrashed out before the delegates took their seats in the hall.

An awkward air of uncertainty pervaded the convention hall while the meeting was under way.

Speeches were cut short, officers named, platform resolutions adopted and the convention adjourned after being in session less than an hour.

It was evident that harmony was there only in the open. Leaders in the party, however, predict that the Republicans will take their united strength to the polls next November. During the time transpiring, however, the Governor's trial is going on, the result of which will have a great bearing on the party's future.

Meanwhile the "Democratic donkey" has his ears in the air, taking in the news of Republican dissension and anxiously expecting to unleash a raucous bray that will rattle the copper-covered dome of the capitol here with such fury that it will be heard in all corners of the United States.

President of China Gives Out Statement

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
For International News Service.
PEKING, June 2.—"If, out of the present war, union results, the price paid will not be too great."

"I have done all that I could do to prevent civil war in China. I have tried for months to bring about a reconciliation between the rival factions and my efforts have been in vain."

His Excellency, Hsu Shih-Chang, president of China, made these declarations to the International News Service today.

"I will not resign my office no matter what pressure is put on me," he said, "nor flee in the face of danger, for if I desert, Peking will be thrown immediately into chaos. I am doing everything possible to maintain order within the walls and making protection of foreign life and property my first duty."

"For a number of years the republic has been divided into two rival camps and we stand before the world as a nation torn by internal strife. This can no longer be suffered to continue. The north and the south are inseparable parts of the republic. If strife continues, it will affect not only ourselves but other nations as well."

"National unity is the first object we must strive to maintain."

If my resignation would bring this about I would resign, but it would not."

SAYS RATES ECONOMICAL

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—Before approximately 500 delegates to the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Electrical association, which opened at the Ambassador hotel Tuesday, President A. B. West, in his opening address declared that no where in the United States can power be obtained at such economical rates as in California. During the last year, West declared, the average rate paid by California consumers was $1.55 as against $2.56 for an equal meterage in the balance of the United States.

Pushes Peanut Three Blocks With Nose

VICTORIA, B. C., June 2.—Charles Stevenson, owner and manager of the film "School Days," which is being shown here this week, backed the wrong horse in the derby Wednesday and had to push a peanut for three blocks---with his nose. Jack Robertson, manager of a local theatre, liked the chances of Captain Cuttle, which won, and saved him from propelling a peanut over the same distance in a like manner.

SCREENING is a fine art, and really adds immensely to the attractiveness of your home. We can furnish the material---from a roll to a carload---with handsome, suitable designs for your place.

SCREENED PORCHES for sleeping purposes are now universally used all over the country.

One of the largest and most modern colleges in the United States makes outdoor sleeping of its students compulsory.

It was decided---and proven---that this precaution against close "secondhand" air has worked wonders in health of the student body. Nobody disputes the value of fresh, cool air. You can have it at a small cost. Why go without it?

Let us submit estimates for screening for your entire home. Now is the time to attend to this important duty.

California High
In Radio Record

Here some days ago, up at Palo Alto, one of the students at Stanford University was digging around putting in a ground connection for a radio set and he dug up an old skull that belonged to somebody some few thousand years before the Indians were running around that part of the country. They sent the skull on to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington and they claim back there that this find absolutely takes the prize and proves beyond even the suspicion of a doubt that it is the necessary evidence that goes to show that the original owner of this skull came over to California from Asia, away back in the time when geography was a little different than it is now, and they were walking over from Asia to Alaska by land and that connected the two continents at that period. This old skull has been lying around here in California all these years, and still is in a pretty fair state of preservation.

I suppose you are all wondering what all this has to do with radio. Well, not much in particular, only, perhaps, that it simply goes to show that there has been considerable changes here in the way of modern inventions since this original Native Son was making his headquarters around the Leland Stanford homestead, and it sort of dispels the idea about California being such a new country, that is, as far as original inhabitants are concerned. And, while it still is somewhat new to radio, due to the fact that this radio craze was centered in the east some six months before it got out here, it is interesting and makes us proud to know that even though we were a little late in getting into this radio game, nevertheless, we work quick out here. The figures from the department of Commerce show that in the matter of broadcasting stations, California, as in practically everything else, leads.

Understand, this is no rash claim, but it's the actual government figures. They show that California comes first, Ohio sec-

TYPES OF CRYSTAL DETECTORS

Crystal detectors are divided into two broad classes, those requiring a local battery for best operation and those which operate without such a source of local electromotive force. Carborundum is an example of the first type, and silicon sometimes works better when a local potential is applied. The carborundum crystals are silicon carbide and are made in an electric furnace. When the carborundum crystals are pulverized they are used for grinding wheels and so forth. When carborundum is used as a radio detector a rather blunt metal point is caused to bear against the crystal with some pressure. With silicon a finer point is best and the contact is much lighter. Silicon is also a product of the electric furnace. Galena, or lead sulphide, is probably the most popular crystal in present use. It belongs in the second general classification, since it works to very good advantage as a rectifier without a local battery. When used as a detector, the galena crystal is usually held in a clamp or set in a cup with "Wood's metal," and a rather fine wire point is allowed to rest lightly upon its surface. Galena is quite sensitive, but does not quite retain that property as long as do some other crystals. It is more sensitive, but not as stable in adjustment as carborundum. Iron pyrites or iron sulphide, make good rectifiers, and, while they are not ordinarily as sensitive as galena, they usually retain their sensitiveness longer. A combination of zincite (natural red oxide of zinc) and boronite (copper and iron sulphides in combination) is sometimes used as a rectifier. The boronite and zincite are in contact with each other under moderate pressure, and the combination can be used without a local battery. The boronite is usually pointed, while the zincite is just a small mass held in a cup or clamp of some sort. A combination of silicon and antimony, in which the antimony is somewhat pointed and rests with moderate pressure upon the silicon, is also used to some extent. This combination also functions without a local battery.

In the case of the detectors requiring a local battery means should be provided for varying the voltage applied from the local battery. A voltage divider, popularly called a "potentiometer," may be used for this purpose. The voltage applied to the detector (no incoming signals) may then be adjusted so that the signal voltage is applied, a fairly large current will pass in one direction, the current due to signal voltage plus battery voltage act-

ENGLAND MAKES THREAT

LONDON, June 2.—The threat of Great Britain to regard the Anglo-Irish peace treaty as having been broken and take back her old civil and military authority in Ireland was made in the house of commons today.

"Unless Eamonn de Valera signs the declaration set forth in the Irish treaty then Great Britain must regard the Irish treaty as broken and Britain has the right to resume her old powers in Ireland," said Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill in a statement to commons on the Irish negotiations now in progress here.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: Will you please tell me how ships, especially wooden ships, obtain their ground connection while at sea?—R. F., Glendale.

Answer: Steel ships connect their ground connection to a steel station which makes a direct connection with the steel hull in the water. Wooden ships have their bottoms sheathed with copper sheeting and the ground on these ships is connected with this copper sheeting. A great many ships use a loop aerial which in reality is a radio compass and a loop aerial requires no ground at all; about the main objection to a loop aerial is that it won't work with a crystal set, and only will work with a most sensitive powerful receiver.

Question: Please publish how to make a cheap fixed condenser for a crystal set, at the least cost and with material that almost anyone would have laying around the house.—H. G. F., Eagle Rock.

Answer: Alright, here is one that you can make with two pennies. Take two pennies, flatten them out a little with a hammer until they are about half as big again as they were in the first place, then dig up a thin piece of mica a trifle larger than the flattened pennies, and get it about the same thickness as a cigarette paper; solder a piece of wire on to each penny for the connections; put the mica between the pennies and wrap the whole thing around with tape or waxed paper, and you will have a pretty good one that will answer the purpose. Be sure that the sheet of mica prevents any part of the pennies from touching each other.

Question: I have a crystal set comprising the following: double slide tuning coil, crystal detector, fixed condenser and a pair of 3000-ohm telephones. Can you suggest any attachment that would improve this?—F. H., Glendale.

Answer: Yes; buy a variable condenser and hook it up by any of the well known hook-ups and you will note considerable improvement.

Question: Please inform me if enameled copper wire is as insulation-proof as copper wire insulated with cotton or silk covering.—R. E., Glendale.

Answer: The enameled wire is supposed to be superior in insulation qualities than the silk or cotton covered, especially insofar as you could immerse it in water and it wouldn't hurt it. It is more expensive, but whether it is very much better for winding coils than the other kind is somewhat doubtful, as the average person is not likely to be throwing their receiving set in the lake.

Instructions for Radio Phone Receiving Set

By Harry F. Dart, Compiler of the Radio Operator's Course for the International Correspondence Schools

Article 5. Operating Hints

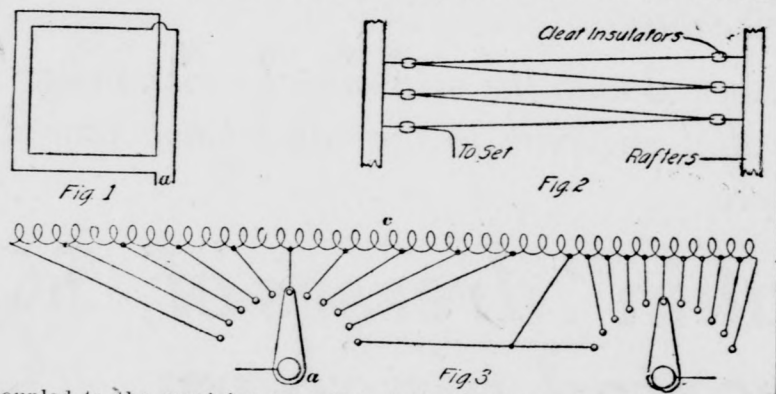

When trying to pick up a station, it is important that the instructions of the maker of the apparatus employed be carefully observed. The following general rules may be followed in any case:

The cat whisker should first be placed on a sensitive spot on the crystal. For a test to determine when this condition obtains, it is desirable to use a small buzzer operated by a dry cell and the whole inclosed in a sound-proof box. The buzzer should then be to have given very good results in many cases, and should be worth trying out.

When purchasing galena it is often advantageous to get a large piece of material, and break it up into pieces of convenient sizes. These may then be tested and the bad pieces discarded. The good ones may for convenience be mounted in solder in a brass cup such as a large-sized cartridge.

Instead of using two coils in the receiving transformer, it is possible to use one single winding.

coupled to the receiving transformer so as to produce pulsating currents in that circuit. The cat whisker is then moved to various positions on the crystal until a point is found where the buzzer may then be stopped and tuning started.

Couple the primary and secondary coils of the receiving transformer close by moving them close together. Then with any arbitrary numbers of turns in these two circuits move the variable condensers over their range of values. If the desired station is not heard, another combination of the receiving transformer turns should be used and the condensers again varied. When the desired station is received, the coupling between the primary and secondary coils should be decreased and the other settings remade so as to get as clear signals as possible. With an electron-tube detector, it is not necessary to use the buzzer test, but the remainder of the procedure is the same.

In congested districts and even in others, it is often desirable to construct an antenna in a limited space. One of the most convenient ways of doing this is to use a loop or coil antenna, Fig. 1, which consists of a few turns of No. 22 double cotton-covered copper wire. Coil antennas are made in various sizes, often from two to ten feet on a side. Connections to the instruments are made at a point. The amount of energy intercepted by such an antenna is relatively small, and it is nearly always necessary to use considerable amplification to get signals from distant stations.

Another expedient indicated in Fig. 2, is to string a considerable length of wire back and forth in a zig-zag fashion on the under side of the rafters. As wide a place as possible should be used and the wire should be strung back and forth several times, but even then the signals are apt to be considerably weaker than when received with an outdoor antenna. One end is open and so this antenna does not act like a loop. Many experiments have been made with a connection through a heavy spike driven into and high up in a tree, the tree apparently acting as an antenna. This seems

One set of movable taps would connect with the antenna circuit and another with the local secondary circuit.

An arrangement for obtaining single-turn adjustments of a coil by switches is indicated in Fig. 3. One switch, a, is arranged so as to make large changes in the number of turns, while another switch b, is arranged so as to make small changes in this case, by individual steps or turns of the coil c. The are those included between the switch points. Honeycomb coils, so named from the appearance of their windings, do not operate satisfactorily on short-wave lengths.

AMPLIFYING HEAD RECEIVERS

When a crystal detector receiver is used for "listening-in" to the radio broadcasts the sounds heard are frequently very faint if the location of the receiver is some distance. There is on the market, however, a detector, which will produce a sound intensity two or three times that ordinarily enjoyed with the crystal set and an ordinary pair of receivers.

In this type of receiver the diaphragm is not acted upon directly by a varying magnetic force as is customary. Instead, it is made of mica and receives its impulses from a thin iron armature to which it is connected by a link. Some of the more prominent features are as follows: In each receiver a long permanent magnet is used which forms more than a complete circle, since its ends overlap. The magnetic circuit has comparatively little reluctance, there being a double magnetic path between the pole pieces. The air spaces are thin and the flux from the permanent magnet does not have to pass lengthwise through the armature. These features of the magnetic circuit favor a strong flux and permanency of magnetization.

The loss of power by hysteresis and eddy currents is reduced to a minimum and the effect of the winding upon the armature is utilized at both ends and on both sides at each end. The diaphragm being of thin mica is very light and sensitive and the total weight of all moving parts is only a fraction of the weight of the common steel diaphragm. The headband is very simple and its construction will be easily understood from the illustration. It fits snugly and will not pull the hair. The phones are easily and quickly adjusted to any head size and may be worn for a long period of time without discomfort.

The canvasback duck was known to the epicure long before it was described by the naturalists.

Stop Hay Fever at That First Sneeze

—Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

With the coming of spring and blossoms, hay fever becomes quite common. In the women's clinic in Washington, a cure has been perfected which involves the placing of pollen of plants likely to cause hay fever on tiny scratch marks on the fore arm of the patient. The pollen causes a slight swelling around the scratch and the treatment is then directed against that specific pollen.

COINS TREASURED BECAUSE OF OLD TIMES SAKE

50-Cent Pieces Coined In Memory of Gen. Grant
Sent to Glendale

Mrs. Jack Lundregan of 308 E. Maple avenue, and Mrs. Grace Hedderich, who was recently her guest, are happy possessors each of a 50-cent silver coin of the issue that was minted in April by the government in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of General U. S. Grant. The coins are quite unique and are legal tender, but the entire issue has been sold as souvenirs, bringing double their face value, the funds raised in this manner to be used in preserving and restoring the birthplace of the general.

On one side of the coin is the likeness of General Grant, and on the other, a picture of the house at Point Pleasant, Ohio, where he was born. These are, as far as is known, the first of the coins that have been seen in this part of the west.

Considered Treasures
They are considered real treasures by these women, as they were born at Batavia, Ohio, a few miles from Point Pleasant, and among their playmates, schoolmates and lifelong friends who were present at the great centennial, held on this occasion, in honor of General Grant's birthday, were Hugh L. Nichols, ex-lieutenant governor and former chief justice of Ohio, prime mover and director of the celebration. He and his wife (formerly Dean Stanley) were graduates in the public school in the class with Mrs. Lundregan in 1883, of which class he was valedictorian. When he traveled over the west, he was entertained at her home in Glendale. Another was Colonel Thomas Ashburn, whose mother was a guest here during the past winter. Still another was Brigadier General Julius A. Penn, who was later a classmate of General Pershing during their college years at West Point, and who was also a member of General Pershing's staff during the late war. General Penn has also been a guest at the Lundregan home in Glendale. General Penn and Colonel Ashburn attended the centennial as aides of President Harding. It is to Miss Jennie Penn, sister of the general, that these friends in California are indebted for the opportunity of securing these treasured souvenirs from their childhood home.

Capper Wars Again On 'Grain Gamblers'

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, chairman of the senate "agricultural bloc," has started after the "grain gamblers" again by introducing a bill in the senate which he believed would meet the recent United States supreme court decision holding the Capper-Tincher grain futures law, unconstitutional. "The grain exchanges bitterly opposed the provision of the law which impelled them to admit co-operative associations to membership," said Senator Capper. "This provision is retained in the new bill in a way to make it clear that with the exception of the patronage dividend basis of operation, co-operative associations of producers are subject to the same conditions as other grain produce exchanges."

Woman Sacrifices Self for Husband

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—Every available police agency was today directed toward running down the trio of auto bandits, one of whom shot and killed Mrs. Henry Wilkens as she flung herself in front of her husband, who had just been held up and robbed of $200. The Wilkens, with their two children, were returning from a holiday outing when an automobile forced their machine to the curb.

A bandit with a gun called for his money and Wilkens gave him $200. Not satisfied, the bandit tried to wrest rings from the finger of Mrs. Wilkens. Her husband reached for a gun. The bandit fired. Mrs. Wilkens, realizing her husband's danger, flung herself in front of his body and sacrificed her life for his.

Many Complaints On Garbage Collection

The city should take over the collection of rubbish and garbage again, according to the opinion of Dr. J. E. Eckles of 125½ North Brand boulevard, city health officer.

Complaints by the score are being received by the health department in regard to the service—or rather lack of it—provided by the City Rubbish company. Dr. Eckles says that those, who do the work, seem to be generally indifferent as to how it is done and seem to take little real interest in it. He believes that the only way the public can be satisfied is with the collection under municipal control where those responsible for poor service can be reprimanded or discharged.

MAN KILLED IN MINE

REDDING, June 2.—Frank E. Lewis, 39, was killed in the Hornet mine, near Keswick. A chute was clogged with ore and instead of using a long stick with powder and blasting out the blockade, Lewis disobeyed the rule of the mine, went up against the ore himself. In the rush of ore that he loosened, he was crushed to death. The body was soon recovered by fellow miners. Lewis came to the Hornet mine in January from Butte county.

Urges Harding Act On Japanese Matter

SACRAMENTO, June 2.—A resolution urging President Harding and congress to take cognizance of "strangle-hold which the Japanese have on agriculture in the west," was introduced in the convention of western states agricultural representatives here.

The resolution sets forth that state and local laws are inadequate in meeting the situation and asks that federal legislation be enacted to meet the problem.

Senator J. M. Inman, president of the California Japanese Exclusion League, appeared in session in behalf of the resolution. Delegates from eleven western states are in attendance at the convention.

PLAN TO CONTROL FLOOD WATERS OF PACOIMA

Dam and Rip Rap Will Be Used in Guiding Torrent
Into Los Angeles River

At a conference held recently by the flood control committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the Van Nuys Improvement association, City Engineer Griffin and County Flood Control Engineer J. W. Reagan, a plan of procedure was presented by the engineers for taking care of Pacoima storm waters that seemed to meet with the general approval of all present.

The plan provides for the building of the Pacoima dam, the rip-rapping of the channel through the territory between San Fernando road and the Southern Pacific coast line, and the construction of a medium sized conduit from the Southern Pacific coast line to the Los Angeles river in Kester avenue at Van Nuys.

Encino Country Club

The Encino Country club whose membership drive opened last week apparently fills the long felt want of the upper San Fernando valley; namely a centrally located playground, a carefully selected membership and all of the things Owensmouth has been striving for in the last few years. Located on 1750 acres in the foothills south of the Encino ranch the club grounds nearly encompass the new city reservoir and include many canyons heavily wooded with live oaks, sycamore and maple whose beauty has lain hidden and unappreciated for years. The improvement will all be of the best, includes a large hollow tile club house, a swimming pool 125 feet by 40 feet, in a beautiful setting and city water and electricity.

Marian to Be Reseda

After June 1 Marian will be named "Reseda." A postoffice is being installed in the Pryon building. L. B. Turner is to be the first postmaster of the new office. Mr. and Mrs. Willard of Pasadena have purchased thirty-four acres at Ventura boulevard and Van Alden avenue. Their bungalow is under construction. Mr. and Mrs. Willard chose the valley for a permanent home after having resided in the Hawaiian Islands for eight years.

Organize Legion Auxiliary

A women's auxiliary is to be formed at the next monthly meeting of the Van Nuys post of the American legion. Letters are being sent to all members of the post urging them to escort to this meeting, June 7, those relatives, resident in the valley, who are eligible to the auxiliary, wives, sisters and daughters of former service men who were in the Great War.

Burbank Boosters to Tour

On Monday, June 5, the merchants of Burbank will make a tour of San Fernando valley to acquaint the people with the fact of their existence and to let them know of the many bargains which may be had from the retailers there. This date was decided on at the meeting of the Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Soviet Policy Must Be Changed, Belief

By H. K. REYNOLDS

For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 2.—In the opinion of officials here today the unwillingness of France to take part in The Hague conference has made it increasingly apparent that the policy pursued by the soviet delegation at Genoa must be reversed or changed materially if other powers are to co-operate effectively in Russian reconstruction.

Premier Poincare's decision that the French government should not be represented at The Hague is taken to indicate his agreement with the view of President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes that nothing fruitful could come of the second conference on Russian affairs.

In connection with the newly announced French attitude towards The Hague meeting, it was pointed out, however, that for a time it looked as if France was not to be represented at Genoa but finally went in with the other powers despite her earlier objections to meeting the Russians on an equal footing. It was held not improbable that Poincare's present adherence to the American views towards Russia would change within the next few weeks so as to permit the French government to resume the Russian negotiations in June.

APPEALS TO ENGLAND

BELFAST, June 2.—The Ulster cabinet today appealed to England for assistance as a result of the growing warfare between republicans and Ulster constabulary on the Tyrone-Fermanagh border in the western part of the province. A region of terror prevails in that district. The Orange residents are in flight. Republicans are concentrating south of the Ulster line. The chief trouble is in Clady, Belleek and Strabane.

Shopping with the Bride

The Junetime bride comes into her own. It is wedding time and orange blossom time. So that her task may be easy—her pre-nuptial work reduced to the minimum—we are taking her on a tour of the leading stores of the city with the ease and comfort of a pleasurable shopping trip. Here she will be offered many practical, appropriate and valuable suggestions. Everything has been chosen with that enduring charm of distinction.

CITY LEASED AUTO BUS SYSTEM ONE PROPOSITION

C. D. Gulick Talks About Project; Another Plan Is to Vote Whole Sum

"It is becoming more evident from day to day that motor busses within the city of Glendale and to Los Angeles are necessary," declared C. D. Gulick, city transportation manager, this morning. "We are losing residents daily," he said, "all because of the high rates on the Pacific Electric. There cannot be any service for the benefit of the city of Glendale upon any plan known to myself that will eliminate the city from the necessity of raising sufficient funds to make the present installation of motor busses. If it is truthfully estimated that the city of Glendale has a population of 30,000 people, there should be no hesitancy on the part of two-thirds of the people to vote at least a dollar or a dollar and a half per resident for the purpose of installing a transportation system which will be the means of furthering the future prosperity of the city.

"On the other hand, if the citizens of Glendale are not willing to create a fund large enough to install and maintain a department properly manned and equipped, for their own benefit, they do not need transportation.

Need Sufficient Funds
"There is no use beating around the bush if you expect to install a business with as large a financial investment as this business will require. It will be absolutely necessary to operate the busses in a business-like manner and have sufficient funds on hand to operate in the same manner as any individual, firm or corporation. There are two propositions by which the city can finance the installation of a bus line to Los Angeles: "First, by a small bond issue sufficient to install the system and maintain control of it while actual equipment may be leased to a private company. This equipment would be insured so that there would be no loss incurred by the city.

"Second, by a bond issue large enough to cover the entire ownership. These two propositions should be placed on the ballot at a special election and the public allowed to choose between them.

"I beg to call your attention to the necessity for immediate action. We cannot lose sight of the fact that there must be sufficient funds placed at the disposal of the motor bus department of the city to secure legal services and for the many other necessary incidentals for making the installation.

Can Control by Lease
"The city can hold control by leasing equipment from motor bus companies which will have modern equipment adapted to the needs of the city. This action appeals to me as the most preferable of the two propositions mentioned.

"I find upon inquiry that there are a great many people in Glendale who object to municipal ownership in any form and particularly to the public ownership of motor busses. Therefore, it seems advisable to take the line of least resistance, placing the matter before the public at the same time giving the city just as efficient service for a great deal less capital investment besides eliminating entirely any risk to the city.

"This proposition will require a fund of between $25,000 and $30,000 to be utilized in making such legal tests as necessary, maintenance of an office, legal advice garage and other incidental expenses. This fund should be placed at the disposal of the city council or the motor bus department to be used in any way necessary to successfully carry on the department until such a time as it is self-sustaining.

Second Proposition
"The second proposition of the city voting bonds in a sum sufficient to purchase and operate the motor busses appears at this time to be the only other possible way to successfully meet the issue.

Inasmuch as this proposition will cost approximately $125,000 to $150,000 and that there will be opposition from certain quarters of the city against municipal ownership, it is probably the least likely of the two propositions to carry. In my opinion it is really the most undesirable of the two. It is my opinion that the bonds for the $25,000 to $30,000 can easily be voted provided that the citizens understand that sufficient revenue is to be derived from the operation of the busses not only to pay the interest on the bonds but an additional profit of from 1 to 2 per cent as a slight compensation for having founded the system.

"The bonds should run for about twenty-five years and should be retired out of the earnings of the business at the rate of $2000 or more a year. The leasing company merely uses temporarily the sum necessary to install the busses and returns the loan eventually to the people.

"In my opinion, there could be no arrangement that could be more fair to the citizens of Glendale. If the citizens do not desire to advance a loan to the city, they certainly do not want transportation.

"The advisability of allowing private individuals, or a company to install the bus line has been discussed. The only objection to such action would be the unavoidable yoke of the railway commission which has no control over municipally owned bus lines.

"After the installation has been made by the municipality, the people might be able to secure better terms and rates from the railway commission for a private company in case they should desire to turn the system over to private interests."

ELDER M'ELHANEY TO RETURN HERE FOR CHURCH

Supervisor of Adventists' Forces In Southwest, He Has Office In City

J. E. Fulton, president of the Pacific Union conference of Seventh-day Adventists who has been elected vice president of the General Conference soon will leave Glendale to take up his home at the national headquarters in Takoma Park, a suburb of Washington, D. C. He will be succeeded here by Elder J. L. McElhaney of Nashville, who is president of the Southern Union conference. The new official is expected to establish his home here some time next month.

About four years ago, when Mr. McElhaney was chosen president of the Southern Union conference, he left the chair of president of the California conference and his return to the golden west as the supervisor of the Adventist forces throughout California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah will be welcomed by many of his former constituents.

W. F. Martin, another resident of Glendale who was honored at the world's conference recently closed at San Francisco, with the office of associate secretary of the religious liberty department, will cover the territory west of the Mississippi river in his field of duty.

PICTURE STAR DIVORCED

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—After eight minutes of testimony Constance Talmadge, screen luminary, was granted an interlocutory divorce decree from her wealthy husband, John I. Pialoglu, on the grounds of cruelty. The film star and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Talmadge, were the only witnesses.

"He told me he was through with married life and to pack my things and get out," Miss Talmadge told the court. "He would go around the house for days and ignore me," she added. The beautiful film star's mother affirmed her statements.

SCHEDULES REJECTED

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The senate today rejected the house schedules for tariffs on glass ware used in the chemical and drug trades but strong opposition developed when an attempt was made to adopt the McCumber substitute. McCumber schedule increased the forty per cent ad valorem rate imposed by the house to a series of rates ranging from 50 to 75 per cent ad valorem. Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, led the opposition.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Season for June Brides
Here's How They Figure
Full of Something New
About Our Foreign Trade
By Gil A. Cowan

NOW that this is the season for June brides, there comes to mind a little story told at a college recently:

"The modern young man is not a coward, but why should he risk his life on an untrained co-ed's biscuits?"

To which she retorted: "Well, I'll wager my biscuits are as near like your mother's as your bankroll is like my father's." And there the matter stands.

The average young man figures two can live as cheaply as one, for he spends all he makes anyway.

And the average girl figures it out that being her own boss during the day, doing as she pleases, and bossing someone else about at night is a lot better than being bossed about during the day and then following some fellow around at night.

"So divide your day that you will take adequate rest, have sufficient pleasure, render some service to others, and then eliminate the waste minutes from your working hours."

Such is a quotation from a Rotary bulletin. Whoever wrote that must hold public office or own income property. Certainly, he isn't employed around a newspaper office.

One of the greatest of all editorial writers and known by more people for his thoughts is Arthur Brisbane.

It is said that he confessed the other day that he did not know what he wrote, for he turned out such a quantity.

The same is true with almost every active newspaper man. He does not appreciate what he does because life is so full of something new.

What about our foreign trade? You hear enough in the newspaper regarding the necessity for a merchant marine to know just what sort of a business the United States is doing with other nations. Here is a summary furnished by the U. S. Press association:

"The latest available figures on the imports and exports of the United States indicate that the fiscal year 1922, which ends this month, June, will show imports of approximately $2,500,000,000 against $3,654,000,000 in the fiscal year 1921, and $1,894,000,000 in the fiscal year immediately preceding the year. Exports will apparently approximate $3,750,000,000 against $6,517,000,000 in the year preceding the war.

This marked reduction in the stated value of the imports and exports is very largely due, says the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, to the lower prices of the principal articles imported and exported. In fact, in many cases the quantities of the principal articles of merchandise entering and leaving the country are actually larger in the current year than in the corresponding period of the preceding year, although the valuations are in most cases far below those of a year ago.

Even with these reductions in quantities and values, the totals for the fiscal year will show increases over 1914 of about 32 per cent in imports and 58 per cent in exports, while the excess over imports will be considerably more than one billion dollars as against less than a half billion in 1914.

Glendale is getting a lot of good publicity from the conventions being held in California this summer.

Realty board members at the national convention in San Francisco are distributing much literature.

The Rotary club will bring many delegates here from the international convention in Los Angeles, as well as let them know that this is a live city in which to live.

And the Shriners are going to keep open house next week at the Masonic temple for members of their fraternity who are passing through to San Francisco where the imperial council is in session. Any of these visitors will make highly desirable residents when they eventually move to California. Aid in the efforts of Glendaleans to get its share.

Shotgun squads of Los Angeles police are going after the bandits. It would seem that Glendale could use one or two good shotguns, if safecracking, murder and other outlaws is to continue in this vicinity.

Almost at the city's gates a motorist was slain by bandits the other night. Due to the distance to the nearest Los Angeles police station in Hollywood, they made their getaway.

And Glendale had an officer on duty within a mile from the scene of the crime. Closer liaison is needed in the metropolitan area, it would seem.

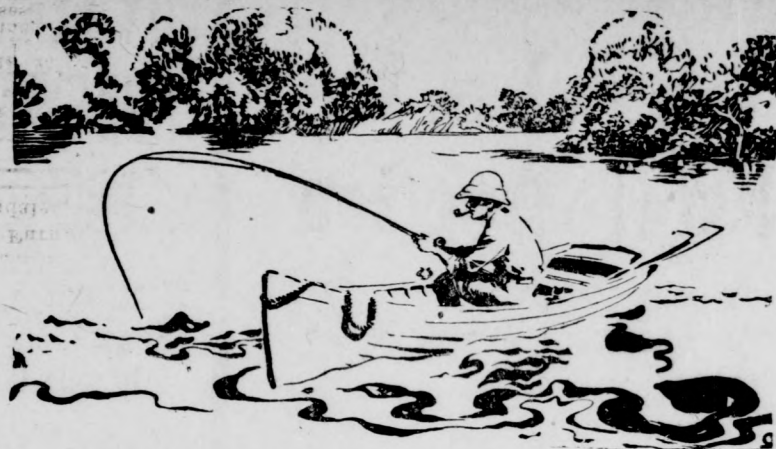

FIREMEN ARE OVERCOME

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—Thirteen firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting a fire which did $100,000 damage to the building of the Mack Elliott Paper company and Superior Manufacturing & Supply company. The firemen, none of whom were in serious condition, were removed to the city hospital.

IRISH WAR CONTINUES

LONDONBERRY, Ireland, June 1.—Heavy firing was reported today from the southern part of County Donegal. Regulars and troops of the Irish republican army are combining their forces along the frontiers of Fermanagh, Tyrone and Donegal counties.

F. W. Greiner Home From Imperial Trip

"The temperature registered 108 degrees in the shade in the Imperial Valley the other day and when I got back to Glendale I decided for the second time, that there is no other place in all of southern California to live in," said F. W. Greiner, a recent arrival from New York state. "With my wife I drove through to Banning, Whitewater and Palm Springs. It is a delightful ride, through beautiful country and over a good road, excepting between Banning and Whitewater which is in poor shape. The highway from Glendale to Banning, by way of Riverside is paved throughout, and again from Whitewater to Palm Springs, so that, with the exception of the small strip between Banning and Whitewater, one has a good hard-surfaced road all the way through a scenic country that is worth the trip."

BENEFIT PROGRAM TO BE FEATURED IN OPEN AIR

Members of Mission Play Cast to Have Part in Entertainment

The members of the Mission Play company go out to the Verdugo Hills once each year to give an entertainment for the benefit of some good cause dear to the heart of Mrs. John McGroarty, wife of the author of the Mission Play.

This year's entertainment will be given on the night of June 8, among the live oaks in what is known as "The Garden of the Moon" in the town of Tujunga. The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to Monte Vista lodge, an institution maintained for the support of undernourished city children and conducted by the Community Service association, of which Mrs. J. T. Anderson of Los Angeles is the head.

Beside a fine program of songs and dances the entertainment will be made notable by the presentation of the court scene from "The Merchant of Venice." Frederick Warde will appear as Shylock, and this will doubtless attract large numbers of people to Tujunga on the night of the performance. It will be one of the last chances that anyone will have to see the last of America's great actors in a Shakespearean role. Mr. Warde will be supported by Mrs. Tyrone Power as Portia—a character in which she has already won widespread fame. Other Mission Players furnish the balance of the cast.

It will be a lovely moonlight drive up the Verdugo road from Glendale to Tujunga, and many Glendale people will doubtless attend the entertainment.

W. E. Borthick Back From San Joaquin

Following a sixteen days' trip throughout the San Joaquin valley, visiting particularly in Tulare and Kings counties, W. E. Borthick of 224 South Brand boulevard, returned to his desk yesterday, pleased to get back to Glendale. "Conditions in the valley pleased me very much from an agricultural standpoint, although there is much land throughout that section still undeveloped. There seemed to be good crops everywhere I went and the feeling among the ranchers appeared to be optimistic."

Mr. Borthick devoted his time, while away, to business and pleasure.

CANADA INVITES HARDING
WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Harding was invited to Canada today. Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, formally extended an invitation to the President in behalf of the Canadian government to stop off and visit Vancouver and Victoria if the chief executive makes his contemplated trip to Alaska. The President informed Sir Auckland that he will visit Canada if he goes to Alaska, which is uncertain.

Boy Scout Uniforms Now at Webb Store

Following closely upon the announcement yesterday that the H. S. Webb Company had been appointed official boy scout outfitters, comes the news that a big shipment of the new boy scout uniforms has been received which will be ready for sale as soon as the different articles are sorted out in sizes, priced and placed in the special boy scout department which will be opened in the "Men's Shop."

"This new boy scout uniform is one of the snappiest affairs we have ever handled," declared Mr. Webb this morning. "It is made of the best material that can be procured, being the U. S. standard khaki which has been submitted to sun, acid and strength tests. The new coat is particularly snappy with its notched lapel roll collar, two outside Stanley breast pockets. It has one pleat in the center back extending from yoke to belt, two inches wide. Has lettering 'Boy Scouts of America' worked in red silk over right breast pocket. Official buttons bearing boy scout emblem. The breeches are tailored for hard wear and good looks. Legs laced below the knees. The shirt is of light weight material and also has the Stanley breast pockets. The regulation new model hat is some snappy style with its low crown, wide brim. It is olive drab felt, ventilated and has a silk band and detachable wind cord. The official woolen stockings are very attractive and durable, made from pure wool olive drab yarn, reinforced toe and heel. These are the latest things out for scouts, being much neater and dressier and more serviceable than the common canvas or spiral puttees. The total cost of the new boy scout uniform is only slightly over ten dollars, which includes the hat, coat, shirt, breeches, belt, and stockings, making it the cheapest and most durable uniform on the market for boy scouts."

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

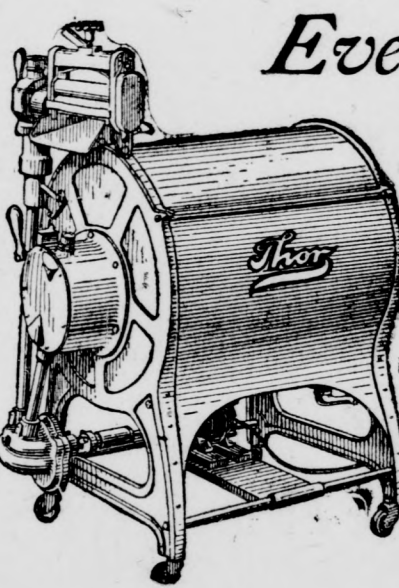

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so natural and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Advertisement.

Every Woman Wants an Electric Washing Machine

WHY? Because the commercial laundry can rarely satisfy the exacting demands of a fastidious woman. And because over 750,000 Thor Electric Washing Machines now in use have proved that they can satisfy these demands and do the family washing quickly, economically, and well.

The Thor is just one item of a complete line of electrical appliances which the Pacific States Electric Company has certified by the "check" seal reproduced below. These standard materials and appliances can be obtained through dealers and contractors who are qualified as to their responsibility and technical competence.

The "check" seal in our window is your assurance that we are qualified to supply you with an electrical installation which will give complete and lasting satisfaction, and that in the choice of materials and workmanship and in the prices that we charge we live up to the standards set by the "check" seal.

You will enjoy the new booklet "The Electrical How for Householders," which lists a variety of standard electrical materials and appliances, and describes their use in the course of a typical day in an electrified home. We will supply you a copy free upon request.

ORATORY CONTEST EVERY MEMBER OF ROTARY CLUB TO ATTEND MEET

Paul Hutchinson to Make Strong Effort to Bring Cup to Glendale

Paul Hutchinson, winner of the interclass oratorical contest at the high school this year, will represent Glendale Union high school in the annual southern California oratorical contest held at the old Los Angeles high school tonight. He will deliver an oration entitled "The Trend of Civilization." Hutchinson will make a strong effort to win this year as Glendale has won the silver cup twice before and the school winning it three times is privileged to keep the cup permanently. Clarence Ralston and Jack Jenkins have won it previously for Glendale. Los Angeles high school is the present holder of the cup and will make a desperate effort to retain the cup. Probably eight or ten schools will be represented at the contest and the competition will undoubtedly be keen, but Glendale's supporters have a great deal of confidence in Paul's ability to win the prize.

Sent to Professors
 The orators are judged 50 per cent on thought and composition and 50 per cent on delivery and presentation. They have already been sent out to three college professors to be judged on thought and composition.

An assembly of the students was held yesterday morning at the high school as a rally for the contest. Principal Moyle emphasized the importance of the event and urged the students to be at the contest and give Hutchinson strong backing. If he wins it means a gold medal for himself and the silver cup for the school.

Reporter for Wilson Buys Residence Here

W. H. Stadt of the Edwards & Wildey company reports the sale of the H. T. Balthus home on Burnett street to G. H. Boone, the official reporter in Judge Reeve's court in Los Angeles.

Mr. Boone was the personal shorthand reporter to former President Woodrow Wilson and upon his return to Washington from the peace conference at Versailles in 1919, Mr. Boone was one of two private stenographers who worked at the president's report to the senate foreign relations committee. He also reported the conference between the president and the governors of states and mayors of large cities in the same year.

Mr. Boone came to Los Angeles about a year ago. In Judge Reeve's court he will be at the famous little table where the Harry New, Jr., Arthur Burch and Madalynne Obenchain testimonies were written.

George Knox Gives Talk On Efficiency

About 130 brains last night were set in motion. "How to Overcome Mental Sluggishness" was the title of the lecture given by George H. Knox in the assembly room of Harrower's Laboratory, 320 East Broadway, as the first of four lectures on the subject of "Personal Efficiency." The attention during the evening was most marked and there were no distractions in the audience. All present followed the train of thought closely and agreed that the lecture was based on sound common sense and practical fundamentals.

Mr. Knox was introduced by Dr. Henry R. Harrower, who heartily endorsed the course.

"We believe that we are efficient in our business," remarked Dr. Harrower. "This is the most efficient business in southern California, barring none. I thought it good business to enroll in this course. I am very glad that we can have the privilege of introducing Mr. Knox by saying that what is good enough for us ought to be good enough for the rest of you." "Development of the Memory" is the topic of the next lecture which will be given next Thursday night at the Harrower Laboratory. It will be limited to members of the class, but those interested have been invited to join by Mr. Knox.

Edwards & Wildey Co. Give Report on Sales

The Edwards & Wildey company report the sale of two lots on Columbus avenue and one on Dorothy Drive in their Kenneth Terrace tract to Dick Michel, the well-known Glendale builder. Mr. Michel has recently sold all the houses he had under construction and had been searching all over Glendale to find a suitable location for some more of his high-class, well-built homes. Upon being shown Kenneth Terrace, it was only necessary to take Mr. Michel's order as the property literally sold itself.

"I consider it a privilege to aid in the tract development," said Mr. Michel. Edwards & Wildey company report their street work progressing very satisfactorily in the Kenneth Terrace tract and as the major portion of the lot buyers are planning to build, they expect that section of Glendale to more than do its share toward maintaining Glendale's wonderful building record. Since the Kenneth Terrace tract was opened four months ago Edwards & Wildey company have sold over $80,000 worth of lots at an average price of $1800 each.

NOTE IS SATISFACTORY

PARIS, June 2.—The inter-allied reparations commission has pronounced Germany's indemnity note satisfactory and will proceed at once to put into effect the demands which Germany accepted, the Echo de Paris stated today.

Acceptance by the Germans of the allies' demands averts the possibility of France extending her military occupation of German soil. Germany is expected to enact her promises into organic law before the end of next week.
